Individual Speech Memories

By Anastasia Sackfield

During the winter, a number of students participated in individual speech. Since there are a variety of categories, it's guaranteed there's something for everyone. Saturday, on February 25th, students used their various talents to participate in their specific categories, such as improv, lit program, radio, and acting, just to name a few. One student from Carroll puts in her input about participating in speech. Ashley Burke loves speech because it gives her a chance to express herself. She was shy in middle school, and speech lets her be herself. This year, she did lit program, and she feels good about the experience. Her ultimate goal is to go to Allstate.

Another boy from St. Mary's says speech gives him an opportunity to showcase his acting gifts. As a sophomore, he also did lit program and radio.

Students from all walks of life come to do speech whether it's to express themselves, move out of a comfort zone, or to meet new friends.

Teacher Feature

Brian Bean

By Trevor Dettman and Anastasia Sackfield

Mr. Bean has been an educator at South Central Calhoun for six years, helping students succeed. The classes he likes to help in the most are math, English, and science. Aside from helping students in class, he also coaches JV Basketball boys and junior high track.

During his free time, Mr. Bean likes to read, fish, and travel to Europe. He has two kids, and grew up in Lake City. The place he would like to visit the most is Australia. Some interesting facts about Mr. Bean is it he worked at the Capri theater as a kid, and says he seen Grease thirty-three times. His favorite subject in school were creative writing, history, and anatomy.

Barb Blair

By Trevor Dettman and Jordan Ludwig

Barb Blair has worked in our school district for twenty-one years. She serves as a great help in a multitude of classes, and deals with lunch accounts. Around students often, Barb enjoys helping them to become successful and hearing their stories.

In her spare time, Barb enjoys spending time with her family and friends, especially her grandkids. She also likes to paint, swim, and read. She's a mother of three and grew up in Emmetsburg and Lake City, Iowa. She didn't have a favorite subject in school, and would love to travel to Australia. When asked to give three interesting facts about herself, Barb happily obliged. She has six brothers and three sisters. That's a total of nine

Cade Carstens

By: Alex Campbell

Cade is a senior here at SCC, and he has big plans for the future. Cade is going to Iowa Central, along with some of his best friends. His major is going to be criminal justice. Cade's best high school memory was eating all the free mini donuts at SCC campus when the tornado hit at the high school. Cade was involved in football all four years of high school.

When asked what he will miss the most, Cade replied any class that was fun and easy. He can't wait to be on his own when he gets out of high school. In ten years, Cade sees himself living somewhere that's not Lake City and being a police officer.

Cade says his grandpa inspires him the most. If he could travel to any place in the world, he would travel to New Jersey. Cade's favorite pastimes are watching NFL and playing video games. His advice to underclassmen is to not waste your time looking forward to something that isn't worth it.

Colten Jace Mosbach

By: Lindsey Sweeney

Colten, nicknamed McLovin, was born in Des Moines eighteen years ago on October 29th. McLovin was raised in Webster City and moved to Lohrville his sophomore year. After transferring to South Central Calhoun, he was nicknamed McLovin for his resemblance to the Super Bad character. In high school, McLovin was involved in the yearbook, where he plays a major part. When he's not working on yearbook pages, Colten likes to play video games, watch Superbad, and listen to the song Big Green Tractor.

After graduating, McLovin plans to attend Des Moines Area Community College to study medicine. His best memory from high school was screwing around with his friends. After graduating, McLovin says he will miss being harassed by his classmates. His grandparents have inspired him to become the person he's become. Colten wants underclassmen to take high school as seriously as he did. .

Keaton Hammen

By Colten Mosbach

Keaton Hammen is a senior at SCC High School. His plans after high school include going to college for two years. One of his best high school memories is t-ping his teachers' houses. Keaton was involved in wrestling for four years, football for two years, and wonderful FFA.

The thing that Keaton is going to miss the most is his classes. The one thing he's looking forward to the most is graduating and getting out of here. In ten years, Keaton sees himself being single and accomplishing all of his goals.

Jesse Casey

by Cody Schumacher

Jesse Casey is a great and fun loving kid. In high school, he has participated in football, wrestling, golf, and FFA. His plans after high school include attending Iowa Central Community college for law enforcement and then transferring the Simpson College. In ten years, Jesse sees himself being a cop.

Jesse's best high school memory is making she-nanigans with the squad, and that is also what he's going to miss the most. He is most looking forward to making a lot of money. Jesse's favorite movie is Law Abiding Citizen. His inspiration is to be successful. When he plays Monopoly, the token he chooses is always the money bag.

In his free time, Jesse likes to game and go fishing with the boys. If he could travel anywhere, he would choose Canada. His advice to underclassmen is to not procrastinate.

Caleb Reiss

by Mariya Streck

Caleb Reiss, a senior at SCC High School, is planning on going to Iowa Central after he graduates. He wants to major in criminal justice and become a police officer. This has been his career path for many years. He has also been interested in working at the prison in Rockwell City while he is in college. He wants to be a police officer because he wants to help people and make sure the laws are being followed. He wants to work at the prison because they get really good benefits and a great salary.

Miss Bonnell is his favorite teacher because she is chill. Miss Bonnell teaches the art classes here. Caleb's favorite high school memory is when he snuck into Jef-erson winter formal with his friend, James. His advice to underclassmen would be, "don't sweat the small stuff; it may seem important now, but it's really just a minor detail in the circle of life."

Caleb is going to miss his high school years here at SCC. I think Caleb is going to do great for the rest of his schooling in the rest of his life. He seems to have it all planned out.

Keaton's favorite movie is Eight Seconds. His future self inspires him because he wants to work hard to reach his goals. The place that he would like to travel to is Texas. He would like to play himself in a movie about his life someday. The advice he would give to underclassmen is to not stress out about school, because it all works out in the end. !

Andrew Gray

by Makayla Patterson

Andrew Gray is a South Central Calhoun senior. After high school, Andrew plans to become a history teacher, but he's not sure where he plans to attend college yet.

Andrew's best high school memory would have to be sports, especially playing in basketball games. Andrew played football and basketball throughout his high school career. He is going to miss basketball the most out of everything.

Andrew looks forward to living independently. He's not positive where he will be in ten years; he hopes to have a nice job and a nice place to live. Andrew's favorite movie is Fury, and his favorite song is Fresh Eyes by Andy Grammer. Andrew is inspired to be happy, every day. He loves to go fishing and play basketball.

Andrew eventually wants to travel to Germany and to Okinawa someday. Andrew's advice to underclassmen is to enjoy coming to school and all the activities along with it.
